During this four-part series, Verity studies eight different colours, two colours in each programme. She meets people who work in all aspects of the colour industry, from people who design food packets, to people who name the colours of lipsticks. Some of the people she meets clearly have very little scientific knowledge to support their ideas, such as the American 'Colour Doctor' who believes that serious diseases can be cured by the use of coloured lights. However, she also interviews real scientists who are studying the effects of green and red lights on mice, with some surprising results.

Overall, it's an interesting show, and anyone who watches it will probably find out something new. But because Verity is goes out of her way to be polite to everyone she meets on the series, it's up to the viewers to make their own decisions about how much they should believe.

5 ✓ Correct

Which of the following would make a good title for the text?

☒ Enjoy it, but don't believe everything.

☐ Another great show from Verity Allen! Five Stars!

☐ Don't miss this if you work in Business!

☐ Watch this programme! It will make you healthy!

Easter Island

Easter Island is a small triangle of rock situated in the Pacific Ocean. It's about 2,000 miles from the nearest city. Easter Island is famous for its statues. Hundreds of these huge, stone faces can be found all over the island. Who made them? How did they move these giant pieces of rock? What happened to the people who lived there? Studies show that people first arrived on the island about 1600 years ago. They had a very advanced culture. They made many objects and they had their own written language. However, the number of people on the island grew and grew until it reached about 10,000 people. Soon there were too many people and there wasn't much food to eat. A terrible war started and many of the statues were broken. When western explorers discovered the island on Easter Day in 1722, the huge rock statues were the only sign that a great society had once lived there.

canoeing, archery and windsurfing. On wet days, come to the Fun Centre and enjoy indoor activities like art, music, drama and dance. Accommodation in woodland cabins of 2-8 people.

G Green Cross
Green Cross is a 400-year old cottage in the hills. The beautiful cottage has a large garden with a play area, barbecue and sea views. Accommodation includes one double bedroom and a twin room. There is a village pub and shop less than a mile away. Perfect for families who want a bit of peace and quiet.

H The Art House
The Art House is a bit different! All eight double rooms are furnished in the different artistic styles. The Art Deco room, for example, is decorated with theatrical glass furniture, mirrors and fur, while the 1960s room is fun and colourful, and has pop art on the walls. The Art House offers bed and breakfast accommodation on the edge of town, walking distance from the beach.

looking flowers. Even so, Horton has several advantages over its neighbouring towns.

Firstly, it has a country park. Four thousand years ago, this was an important fort. There are no historic remains here now, but there are wonderful views over the countryside. On sunny weekends you can often see kids out with their parents, kicking balls or flying kites.

There aren't many job opportunities in Horton, and the roads to nearby cities aren't really fast, but there are excellent rail links. You can be in London in an hour and a half, and other cities are less than an hour away. That means that parents can earn a good salary and still get home in time to spend the evenings with their families. Houses in Horton aren't pretty, but they're functional and cheap. The streets are quiet and safe, and there are plenty of parks and playgrounds. It has a library, three primary schools and a secondary school, St. Mark's. It's not as academically brilliant as other schools in the area, but it is friendly and offers a wide range of subjects and activities to children of all abilities and backgrounds. The town also has a swimming and a sports centre, and the community halls hold regular clubs and events for people of all ages.

5 ✓ Correct

Which of the following is the best description of Horton?

☒ A quiet, country town which has a number of good leisure facilities.

☐ A friendly, historic town which is a great place to live, work and take a holiday.

☐ A busy, industrial town which has good links to neighbouring cities.

☐ A dirty, unpopular town which has little to offer visitors or residents.

Mount Everest

Asa Sherpa has climbed Mount Everest more times than anyone else in the world. Last year, he broke the world record by climbing the world's highest mountain for the twenty-first time. However, he says he won't be able to do it again, because the mountain is becoming too dangerous to climb. Asa first climbed the mountain on 1989 at the age of 12. He worked as a porter, carrying supplies for trekkers. When he first climbed the mountain, there was plenty of snow and ice up there. Now there is much less snow, and more bare rock. Asa is worried about the lack of snow. Without snow to hold the rocks in place, there are more rockfalls. Melting ice makes big holes, and these make trips up the mountain very dangerous. Also, climbers slip more easily on rock than on snow.
